But by "lasting inner peace," I mean something far, far deeper. I first noticed this "something deeper" a few years after the events of 9/11, while I was still living in New York City. I had also recently experienced a painful breakup, and I wasn't happy with my job or larger career. I had a lot going on in my life.

Inner peace is self-acceptance. The path taken to find inner peace is as hard or simple as a person makes the journey of self-acceptance to be. Inner Peace can be as simple as letting go and resting under the shade of an old tree. Likewise, it can be as hard as endlessly proving oneself to every other person you encounter.
